DETAILED ACTION

The Art Unit location of your application in the USPTO has changed. To aid in correlating any papers for this application, all further correspondence regarding this application should be directed to Examiner Sarah Al-Awadi in Art Unit 1619.

Acknowledgement is made for applicant's election of the process of making an aqueous dispersion, filed in the response received 10/26/2009. Claims 1-31 are cancelled, and claims 32-61 are newly added. Acknowledgement is made for the species of fatty acid salt as a separating agent that floats in pure water, a layer silicate as a separating agent that sinks in pure water and polyacrylate as a film-forming polymer. However, upon reconsideration it is determined that an election of species is also required due to the broad range of unrelated salts, drugs, or dosage forms claimed in Markush format in claims 36-40, 28-59 and 60-61, and the scope of species recited within a genus of polymers recited in claims 32-35 that would require an undue search burden. For Example, the search for a fatty acid salt may not necessarily yield alkaline earth metals. Furthermore, a search for active ingredients without surfactants is unrelated to active ingredients containing surfactants.

Election of Species

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

If Applicant elects Group I or II, Applicant needs to select one of the following species:

a) Film Forming Polymer: Applicant must elect a specific type of film forming polymer

Art Unit: 1619

or mixture thereof as recited in claims 32-35

b) Salt Applicant must elect a specific type of salt (i.e. fatty acid or alkaline earth metal) and further define what the salt is. See claims 36-40.

c) Form Applicant must further elect if the core is in the form of capsules, tablets, pellets, granules, mini tablets or micro pellets as recited in claims 45-55.

d) Type of Fumaric acid ester: Applicant must elect if the active ingredient is provided with surfactant or is free of surfactant. If surfactant is present, Applicant must choose a specific surfactant, see claims 58-59.

e) Type of Drug: Applicant must elect a specific type drug as recited in claims 60-61.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:
All claims are generic.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT

Art Unit: 1619

Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the species for each composition type represent distinct characteristics.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected species.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103 (a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
